For so many of us, this time of year turns our attention to the things in our lives we are thankful for! And we have MUCH for which to be thankful!! We praise God for His grace and mercy in our lives. I know that things may seem a bit unstable these days, from politics to COVID. But-- Jesus is alive!! And He made a way for us to know and serve and fellowship with our LORD!! Praise Him 😊

Another praise is to see the students at Moody Aviation progressing this semester. We've had some good weather this week, and I am basically done with two out of the three students I have. The third is getting close. It has been really cool to watch these guys grow from having never flown a plane to now doing it on their own. They are looking to serve the Lord, and I get to be there in the beginning of their aviation ministry. Thank you for helping make that possible as you pray for and support us.

On the home front, we are rejoicing that Abby will be coming home from Taylor University to join us for Thanksgiving this year. We can't wait to see her!! We are not quite sure yet what our Thanksgiving Day will look like; but, one thing I know, we will be praising our Savior Jesus Christ as a family! 😊 Other things that we are thankful for: Ethan was able to get a job with Dominos Pizza. He should be starting this week. Isaac has been able to attend high school on a live campus (not virtual), and the school has been able to remain open. Julie got a part-time job working as an Office Assistant at Moody Aviation. You can bet that I have been spending a little more time at the front desk these days. 😊

Last (but definitely not least), Julie and I want to express how much we appreciate you all, and how thankful we are to God for putting you in our lives. Without you, it would be very difficult, if not impossible, for us to do what we do. Many of you pray for us. THANK YOU! Many of you give to this ministry. THANK YOU! We really appreciate the many friendships God has brought into our lives over the years to bless us and encourage us along this journey. We hope that you have a wonderful Thanksgiving holiday, as well!

We love and appreciate you all,

Steffan for the family
